

ARE YOU AN
EXTERNAL WALL
INSULATION CONTRACTOR

WE HAVE DEVELOPED A
SOFTWARE SOLUTION
JUST FOR YOU.

OUR SOFTWARE DELIVERS UNBEATABLE EFFICIENCIES FOR YOU, WHETHER YOU'RE A SURVEYOR, ADMINISTRATOR, MANAGER OR ALL OF THESE.

HOW? ...By providing you with a unique software package that has been created from the ground up centered on the EWI industry.

CUSTOMER MANAGEMENT

A centralised online storage centre for all of your customers and prospects with the ability to save important documents and communications, making your CRM more streamlined.

- Customer contact information
- Document storage (EPC's, Occupancy Assessment, etc.)
- Customer communication logging
- Survey assignment and appointment booking

AUTO JOB COSTING

This is where the magic happens. Select your EWI system to use from the built in options and let PROquote do the rest. No calculator required! PROquote will calculate:

- Material cost and quantities
- Ancillaries, prelims and any accessories
- Labour costs
- Your target margin that can be adjusted to suit
- Final letter headed PDF quotation that can be sent to the customer directly from PROquote

PROPERTY SURVEY

A purpose-built tool to draw property measurements including all windows, doors, gables, etc, enabling auto calculation of net M², beads and other EWI components.

- Accurate & easy to use software drawing tools
- Property audit questions
- Add ancillaries to elevation drawings to auto calculate the costing
- Photo upload for each elevation permanently stored online

WORKS MANAGEMENT

Once a quote has been accepted, PROquote will help you manage the progress of works on each property, like a task manager. Each task can be customised in the admin section.

- Email alerts to selected users on task completion.
- Email alerts when a task has gone over the set maximum days
- Each task can be updated from any location with internet access keeping key people informed

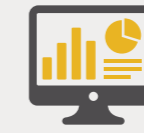

AND THE BENEFITS?

ACCURATE & FAST MEASUREMENTS

Use the fast and easy built-in drawing tool to get an accurate measurement of the property and all associated ancillary quantities/costings.

AUTOMATED CALCULATIONS

Pick the EWI system you'd like to use, PROquote will accurately work out all the materials, labour and margin.
Cost: £7,980
Profit: £2,695

INCREASE PROFITS
Enhance your profits through savings on materials and lower wastage.

IMPROVE EFFICIENCIES
A smoother journey from survey to works complete.

Time Saving

PROquote is designed to save you a considerable amount of time when surveying and building up a cost for a single or multiple house project. The software works out the material and labour costs for the project realising valuable time for the surveyors and other staff in the process.

As surveying is made far simpler with PROquote, it does not require the same level of expertise when pricing houses

Accurate

PROquote provides an accurate measurement, material and labour breakdown per property. This ensures that the cost or price given to your client is based on the actual house dimensions and not simply an estimate. An estimate may be okay for a one-off house if the price is not key, but not acceptable if the price is very important or there are multiple houses.

Pricing

PROquote holds all of the materials, labour and ancillary costs, so that a price can be calculated by a click of a button once the survey, system and margin is selected. You do not have to work out all of the prices per property as PROquote does this for you.

Professional

PROquote allows your business to create a very professional image with clients, be it a single home owner or a very large RSL. For a single home, once the survey is complete and the system selected, you can provide an instant quote to your customer via e-mail or print a hard copy.

For large project management, PROquote allows you to offer your clients access to some of the data within the system through their own log in details such as access to project stages, as well as documents that you may wish to share for each property.

Safe

All of the data on PROquote is held on a highly secure server, protecting you and your clients information.

Document Management

PROquote holds all of the documents you may need before, during or after the project is completed in one accessible place. You control who has access to what, but the information can be easily shared so you no longer need to worry if you can't get hold of someone to obtain the information. Clients can hold dilapidation photos, warranties, EPC's, specification notes, method statements, health and safety documents and all other information required for either that project or that specific house.

Project Management

PROquote provides a highly efficient and user-friendly Customer and Project management platform. It allows you to record information on the client, communication, pricing, actions as well as allowing the operations team to record activity against each house as you require. The project tracking section can be tailored by you, to manage each part of the process you want to track as well as having automated e-mail prompts to ensure nothing is forgotten.

Access From Anywhere

PROquote can be accessed from any location with an internet connection. However for surveying properties with no internet connection, an offline mode is available.

Easy to Use

PROquote is user friendly and intuitive making it simple to use for a user of any level.
